Pawtini Pawty funds help rescue animals

The first annual Pawtini Pawty, benefiting Paws 4 You Rescue, was a big success and raised over $7,000 for the rescue of animals. Held at Martini Bar Sunset Place, NBC/6's News Anchor DeMarco Morgan hosted this event for the non-profit, all volunteer 501 © animal rescue organization.

Pawtini Pawty featured performances of the dance group Energy and Soul, music by DJ Vic Mendez and a giveaway of nearly 50 raffle prizes. The raffles included a variety including dog training sessions from Applause Your Paws Training, a gold and baroque pearl necklace handcrafted by Terry Lopez-Llorenti, a two night stay at any Oceans by H10 Hotels resort in Punta Cana or the Maya Riviera and jewelry from Teno.

Carol Caridad, president of Paws 4 You Rescue, said they were grateful to everyone who contributed to the event and those who attended. She informed that fundraisers such as this one give the resources needed to save more animal's lives adding, "This was a huge success and we could not be happier with the turnout!"
